

SEPTEMBER 2008

INDIA
TODAY

SIMPLY MUMBAI

A MONTHLY CITY MAGAZINE

REAL ESTATE PACKAGE

Go Green

The It

Addresses

Property

PICKS

Architect
Bobby Mukherji (front) and developer
Vikas Oberoi

Meet the men behind Mumbai's changing skyline

MAKEOVER MAVERICKS

GREEN dreams

THESE ARCHITECTS ARE HELPING OUR CITY BUILD A BETTER FUTURE

By NEHA THIRANI AND NIKITA JAIN

The concrete jungle of Mumbai is undergoing a green revolution, thanks to some innovative architects and developers in the city. As Mumbai's answer to our 'inconvenient truth', green buildings use less energy, water and natural resources, create less waste and allow people living inside to be healthier. Made of brick and mortar, these corporate offices, residences, hotels, apartment complexes and universities are sustainable and geared towards the future.

We meet the masterminds behind this green revolution.

kalhan & santha gour mattoo
PLANET 3 STUDIOS

Eschewing the monumental splendour of traditional glass and steel, Kalhan Mattoo, 36,

Kalhan and Santha Gour Mattoo combine innovation and pragmatism

Photographs by MANDAR DEODHAR

As long as architecture is practical, the green agenda can be included to fit the client's interest.

KALHAN & SANTHA GOUR MATTOO